

The valorisation and mobility of human resources. This valorisation will be done in addition to training by using mobility schemas to contribute to cross-fertilization and integration of research groups.